Let all good men rally around, support and sustain him, and again will peace. Larmony and concord loom out from among the thickening gloom, and the American people meet once arain, in unbroken cencert, at the restored temple of liberty, and worship in phrious unison under the protecting aggis of the same flag.

ANOTHER VETO.

The question of vetoing the bill for the admission of Colorado into the Union was again before the Cabinet on Tuesday, and was, doubtless, approved, for as soon as it adjourned the President sent his veto mes-sage to the Senate. It is a brief docu for a State, and the strong contrast in the way of injustice it would furnish. If Senators, were admitted these States would equal those of the largest population.— He thinks that to allow Colorado to have one Representative for 30,000 population. while New York has but thirty one for 4,000,000 of inhabitants, is not just. He also maintains that it is not proper to make a new State with so small a population, while some of the older States of the Union are unrepresented in Congress The Senate will probably aispose of the bill to-morrow and it is considered very doubtful if it will be passed over the ve to. In fact there seems to be no feelling

A Sad Calamity-Four Persons Drowned in lowa.

WESTERN COLLEGE, Iowa, May 15. EDITORS CHICAGO TRIBUNE. -It falls to my lot to announce to you a most heart-rending calamity which occurred near this village, on Monday, the 14th. inst. A party of our citizens, including a number of our college students, started to Cedar river, some six miles distant, on a fishing excursion. Arriving at the place the company separated, one party taking a seine, and the other skifts, for pleasure. Two young gentlemen and two adies, viz. Ezra Davis his sister Mary, children of Rev. Wm. Davis, President of Western College, and John Chamberlain and Annie Risinger, students, took a skiff and launched it, but had proceed ed only to the middle of the river, when it capsized, drowning all four of them! The bodies of Ezra Davis and Annie Risinger have been found but although al most the entire community are engaged up to this hour, the others remain in the river. The teelings of the afflicted par on the constitutional and immemorial pre- ents may be conjectured, but cannot be rogatives and privileges of that monarch, told.
